

Bowman, Hall, Mullis Named DCBS Superheroes – January 2021

Congratulations to these DCBS Superhero Award winners!

Jessica Bowman, Resource Management Analyst III, Division of Service Regions

Jessica was leader of the department's Kentucky Employee Charitable Campaign (KECC) efforts – a major undertaking - beyond her full-time work. She had multiple nominations for this award because of her successful efforts in exceeding the DCBS fundraising goal. She has organized a walk-a-thon, T-shirt design contest, electronic cookbook and online auction. One of Jessica's nominators noted that her enthusiasm likely influenced higher participation. They wrote: "The department is lucky to have Jessica working on this initiative and her work ethic, and positive attitude is greatly appreciated!"

Corrie Hall, Supervisor, Program Support Section, Division of Family Support

Corrie carries a tremendous share of the load for Pandemic Electronic Benefit Transfer (P-EBT) stimulus benefits program. This program provides a card that families can use to buy food to replace free school breakfasts and lunches during virtual learning. Corrie performs hard work so well to give families these important benefits. Congratulations, Corrie!

Tiffany Mullis, Assistant Director, Division of Service Regions

Tiffany was recently asked to take the lead on the SKY program. Tiffany already had a full-time job as assistant director and managing various branches, but she does an exceptional job with all her responsibilities.

How to Nominate for the DCBS Superhero Award
