At Hometown Pharmacy in Campbellsville, Kentucky, we believe that health and wellness goes beyond doctor's visits, quick cures, and even pharmaceuticals— and that's exactly where we come into play. A game-changer in the medical industry, the staff at Hometown Pharmacy is all about patient personalization, offering services such as custom compounding, compliance packaging, and med therapy management, point of care lab testing, full line of vaccinations, mobile covid testing and vaccinations available.

While we are a fully functioning pharmacy we believe in serving the community in a large capacity and offering wellness services, laboratory services, and immediate care for common illnesses are a few ways we want to be your choice for all your healthcare needs. Covid- 19 has taken so much away from our communities, we want to be your resource to help our students, communities, and livelihood safely return to a new normal with our services.
